

Cornell Dining Meal Plans are designed to make your life easier while providing convenient, healthy, delicious options! There are many reasons to enroll in one of Cornell Dining's meal or debit plans for the 2006-07 academic year.

Convenience! The best meal of the day is just a few minutes away with 31 dining locations campus-wide including these all you care to eat dining halls: North Star, Robert Purcell Marketplace Eatery, Jansen's*, Okenshields, Risley, 104 West!, Alice H. Cook House Dining, Carl L. Becker House Dining, and Hans Bethe House Dining+. Additional charges apply for Shabbat and holiday meals at 104West!, and Carl L. Becker House Dining.

Variety! You can't beat our menu options – with everything from sushi and grab & go sandwiches, to hearty home-cooked and international entrees, kosher, vegan, and vegetarian options.

Flexibility! Big Red Bucks offer great flexibility – use them on campus when and where you want!

Closes December 2006. + Opens January 2007.*

Care and Concern

If you have special dietary needs, Cornell Dining is ready to accommodate you. For anyone who follows a specific type of diet out of health or medical necessity – such as allergy, religious, ethical or lifestyle reasons – we can meet your needs.

If you follow a vegetarian diet, we offer many options at all of our dining facilities so you always have a choice of foods. And many of our locations feature foods from our certified kosher program, which accommodates Halal, Muslim, vegetarian, vegan, Seventh Day Adventist and other diets. All kosher foods are prepared and packed under the strict supervision of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations directed by a resident mashgiach, or religious supervisor.

For questions about the foods we serve, or to arrange accommodations to meet your special dietary needs, please contact Cornell Dining at (607) 255-5368, dining@cornell.edu, or dining.cornell.edu.

Meal Plan Options

Golden Bear $2,570 per semester

Unlimited access during designated service periods in the 8 residential meal plan dining halls (including 104West! for all Shabbat, holiday, and special meals except meals during Passover week, for which additional charges will apply); $300 in Big Red Bucks (BRBs) per semester; 8 bonus meals (to be used for guests) per semester; 2 admissions to Cross Country Gourmet table-service per semester.

Bear Traditional $2,168 per semester

Up to 14 meals per week during designated service periods in the 8 residential meal plan dining halls (additional charges will apply for Shabbat, holiday, and special meals in 104West!); $500 in Big Red Bucks (BRBs) per semester; 4 bonus meals (to be used for guests) per semester.

Bear Choice $2,030 per semester

Up to 10 meals per week during designated service periods in the 8 residential meal plan dining halls

(additional charges will apply for Shabbat, holiday, and special meals in 104West!); $500 in Big Red Bucks (BRBs) per semester; 4 bonus meals (to be used for guests) per semester.

Bear Basic $1,770 per semester

Up to 7 meals per week during designated service periods in the 8 residential meal plan dining halls (additional charges will apply for Shabbat, holiday, and special meals in 104West!); $500 in Big Red Bucks (BRBs) per semester; 4 bonus meals (to be used for guests) per semester.

House Meal Plans

House Golden $2,280 per semester

$500 in Big Red Bucks (BRBs); unlimited access to meals during designated service periods within the West Campus House System (for the 2006-'07 academic year: Alice H. Cook House, and Carl L. Becker House); 50 meals per semester that can be used in any of the other 6 all you care to eat dining halls on campus (additional charges apply for Shabbat, holiday, and special meals in 104West!); 4 bonus meals (for guests) per semester.

House Traditional $2,180 per semester

$250 in Big Red Bucks (BRBs); unlimited access to meals during designated service periods within the West Campus House System (for the 2006-'07 academic year: Alice H. Cook House, and Carl L. Becker House); 75 meals per semester that can be used in any of the other 6 all you care to eat dining halls on campus (additional charges apply for Shabbat, holiday, and special meals in 104West!); 4 bonus meals (for guests) per semester.

House Choice $2,030 per semester

$250 in Big Red Bucks (BRBs); unlimited access to meals during designated service periods within the West Campus House System (for the 2006-'07 academic year: Alice H. Cook House, and Carl L. Becker House); 50 meals per semester that can be used in any of the other 6 all you care to eat dining halls on campus (additional charges apply for Shabbat, holiday, and special meals in 104West!); 4 bonus meals (for guests) per semester.

Debit Plan Options

Debit plans are limited to students who do not live in Campus Life housing and are not enrolled in a meal plan. (EXCEPTION: Collegetown Debit Plan is open to Cascadilla Hall, Sheldon Court, and 112 Edgemoor residents). These declining balance accounts can be used in ANY Cornell Dining location and card-reading vending machines. Meal and Debit Plan enrollment is for the academic year.

See terms and conditions for details.

Collegetown Debit Plan $800 per semester

Provides 10 meals in the 8 residential all you care to eat dining halls and $750 in Big Red Bucks each semester.

Dining Dollars $550 per semester

Provides 10 meals in the 8 residential all you care to eat dining halls and $500 in Big Red Bucks each semester.

Bear Bucks $450 per semester

Provides 10 meals in the 8 residential all you care to eat dining halls and $400 in Big Red Bucks each semester.

Meals By Design $250 per semester

(limited to graduate students). Provides $250 in Big Red Bucks each semester.

City Bucks

As a registered Cornell student, you automatically have a City Bucks account. All you need to do is add money by billing to your bursar account or credit card. This declining balance account, accessed with your Cornell ID card, can be used only to purchase food for you and/or your guests at participating off-campus food-service establishments. For more information and a list of current participating restaurants and exclusive City Bucks discounts, go to:

dining.cornell.edu/citybucks.